KINGDOM OF COLORS

Three weeks have passed since the opening of INTWINE. Do you know what customers love most about INTWINE? They love that every product and object in the store is created or crafted by a woman.

When we hung up the paintings of Sabeth Holland in the store, people stopped and looked through the window. They were very impressed by the vibrant colors, energy, and joy that Sabeth's images convey.

Sabeth Holland belongs to the established Swiss artists. Her works have been exhibited at international art fairs and in galleries since 1991. Sabeth and I have a long-lasting friendship. I am therefore particularly delighted that she is the first artist to show her inspiring and magnificent art at INTWINE.

Come by and take a look. I can't wait to see how you like them.

See you soon,

Katharina

WOMEN ARTISTS

There are no limits to my collected impossibilities. I am the queen of a universe of dreams and feelings.

– Sabeth Holland

What is your definition of creativity? For me, creativity is to invent strategies and solutions for future projects with a shortage of means, time, and plans. It's turning chaos into beauty and mastering the impossible.

What inspires you to paint? Impressions on my skin, the wind, scents in my nose, fresh hay, feelings of longing for the lost or not yet found, unusual colors that contrast against dark shadows, slow movements, and ordinary sounds of my environment, cowbells in harmony with the rhythm of a jackhammer and love.

How do you know that a painting is complete? I experience it as an impulse when nothing is left to add, and the work is perfectly balanced. At the same time, it is so unique that the slightest change or intervention would destroy its beauty.
